Pvt. Troy A. Brasuel writes to his mother from Africa as follows:

"We are in a new place, but it will be all right. The eating is fair; the weather warm; the natives black, which to anyone should spell AFRICA. All I can say is that it is French territory and one heck of a long way from the fighting, so don't worry at all about me."

He is with the Ferry Command. He had his training at the Spartan School of Aeronautics in Tulsa, Oklahoma, and the Allison Engine School at Indianapolis.

Service Men to Receive Ration Book No. 3

Assurance that service men would be issued War Ration Book III was made Monday by Howard Gholson, district director of OPA. Numerous service men from West Texas have been appearing before local boards to find out why they are not to make out applications for the books at this time.

Applications of service men will be taken at a later date and final details for taking the applications are being worked out now, the OPA announced. Military personnel eating in their own homes were previously issued Book I and II. Book III is merely a replacement book and probably will not be put into use until August. Members of service men's families file applications for the book in the same manner of other civilians and must send in their applications before June 10.

Harvest Will Open In 2 Weeks

44 Men Called for June-July

Practically All Men Are Married, Without Children —June 22 and July 4 Dates

In addition to the call for 25 men on the afternoon of June 22, the local Selective Service Board received two calls Thursday for July. State headquarters did not give as much time as usual in making these calls.

One negro has been called for July 2, to be followed by 19 white men on July 4. Randall county's calls have usually been for the latter part of the month, and usually 30 days apart. In this instance, the calls are only 12 days apart for the white men.

Physical examinations have been ordered for all married men without children who remain in the county, and are not subject to deferment under regulations of Selective Service.

Practically all negroes in the county have been called, and few married men without children will remain, excepting those who are farmers, or those engaged in other vital occupations.

After being held in Lubbock for a week, Eugene Bomar Brown was accepted for military service and will leave for Fort Sill June 16. He was discharged from the Marine Corps last year because of his feet, but is now accepted under Selective Service.

Texas Almanacs Show Changes Made in State

The new 1943-44 Texas Almanac is off the press and is available in Canyon at Warwick's. The new Almanac reveals many changes which have taken place in Texas since the census of 1940. Approximately 400,000 rural Texans have shifted to urban residence in that period. This is the first time that urban Texas predominates.

Many other changes of importance have taken place which are shown in the new Almanac.

This book is published by the Dallas News and is filled with up-to-the-minute information regarding Texas.

Mabel and George Schmitz Talked at Rotary Lunch

Lieut. Mabel Schmitz of the WAACs and Sgt. George Schmitz of the Air Force in Alaska were introduced at the Rotary Club luncheon Tuesday. Chas. Duvall was in charge of the program.

Capt. R. A. Neblett made a surprise visit to the club, having arrived home for a 10-day leave an hour before the program. He had just returned from Louisiana, and expressed delight in being able to be at home for a few days with his family and friends.

Lieut. Schmitz stated that the purpose of the women's army was to release men for combat duty. Many WAACs are now in England and Africa and are making good records. The basic training for the women is the same as that given the men.

Sgt. Schmitz has been in Alaska 27 months as a mechanic in the Air Corps. He told of his experiences and duties in repairing planes and in recovering planes which had cracked up. Life in Alaska was hard, but the men have good rations.

Alaska offers great opportunities and Sgt. Schmitz predicts that after the war many soldiers will return to develop that section.

Our troops were caught short when the Japs bombed Dutch Harbor, but now we have ample men and supplies The army has the situation well in hand, and no one need have fear of an attack on the United States through Alaska.

George lived for 10 days in a Eskimo village. They are ingenious, but live 500 years behind the times.

High praise was paid to Lester Smith, who was on many raids made by the Japs and received decorations for bravery.

Visitors were: Wm. Schmitz, father of George and Mabel Schmitz, Capt. R. A. Neblett and son, Charles Robert, Newton Harrell, C. W. Foote of Dalhart, E. Kancher and F. R. Barnes of Amarillo.

S. B. Orton is in Dallas visiting with his son, Lieut. Robert Orton, for a few days. Lieut. Orton has been stationed at Victoria for the past month.

Labor Survey Is Now Being Made County

County Agent Finds Labor Shortage Is Not As Great As First Anticipated

The County Agent's office is now making a list of farms needing labor for wheat harvest and other farm work. A registry of farm labor needs for the rush season will be maintained and whatever help can be secured is now being placed on farms where the need is greatest.

The labor shortage is not as great as was first estimated by the Randall County USDA War Board. While there is still a shortage of regular skilled farm help there has been considerable relief by men coming in from other sections and by labor being released from various industrial jobs.

Under a recent act of Congress, County Agents are given the additional job of directing labor placement within the county. The recruiting and transporting of farm labor from one county to another and from State to State is done by other agencies.

It is hoped that enough labor will be found to harvest all crops so that no food will be wasted for lack of help to harvest it after it is produced.

Farmers will be forced to abandon and plow under low yielding crops, such as, three and four bushel wheat unless labor for harvest is readily available.

All those who will be unemployed during the next few weeks, or can spare as much as a week to help some farmer catch up with planting or to harvest wheat, are urged to call at the County Agent's office. A farm vacation is recommended to those who are not accustomed to outdoor work and want to get toughened up by hard physical labor.

The cooperation of all citizens is requested by the County Agent for the job of finding help to harvest the wheat crop and to do the other farm work needed to be done. You may cooperate in many ways, such as directing all transient labor to the County Agent's office. Business men might help their farmer customers by doing errands for them that would save the farmers time in harvest.

Wheat Expected Normal Average

Total Yield Will Not Be More Than Half of Last Year's 17 Bushel Average

While wheat harvest is getting started in some sections of the Panhandle, best authorities believe that little wheat may be cut here for at least two weeks.

There is little information regarding the prospects for the wheat crop this year. The continued drouth of the winter and the green bugs will cut the total yield much below last year's harvest.

It is estimated that if the crop yields half of the total wheat produced in Randall county last year the crop will be practically normal. There was a high yield of wheat in 1942, with an average of 17 bushels to the acre. This high average has been reached only three times since Randall county has been having large acreage wheat production. The average is about 8 bushels to the acre, and this will be about the average for 1943, believes most farmers.

Enrollment To Go Near To 380 at W. T.

The registration for the second summer session since Pearl Harbor has reached a total of 377 students and is expected to go slightly higher. The wartime emergency is again reflected in the length of the session of 15 weeks. The first 9-week term ending July 27 will be followed by a 6-week term.

To those figures must be added the 21 pupils of the nursery school sponsored by the Department of Home Economics with Miss Alma May Clark as instructor. The enrollment last summer was 22 pupils. The ages of the children range from not quite two to slightly over four years. A play ground has been established at the rear of the Home Management House. Additional toys are kept in the Home Econonomics offices on the third floor.

Enrollment in the demonstration school is about with the enrollment fairly well distributed between the twelve grades.

Miss Jean Pierce, a graduate of the University of Texas has begun work this summer as college dietician, relieving Miss Margaret Barrett and Miss Alma May Clark who has formerly been doing this job in addition to their regular teaching. Miss Pierce has been especially trained for this work and was for a time assistant dietician at the Scottish Rite girls' dormitory at the University of Texas. Her father and mother live at Amarillo.

Another new teacher in the Home Economics department is Miss Lillie Stephens who is now in charge of the Home Management House. Miss Stephens has attended John Tarlton College, Texas State Teachers College for Women, and the Iowa State College. She received her B. S. degree from T. S. S. W. and her M. S. Degree from Iowa State.

Replacing Miss Maude Counod during the summer is Miss Kathleen Flood who is on the faculty at North Texas State Teachers College in Denton. Miss Flood received her B. B. A. degree at the University of Texas, and has also attended Gregg College in Chicago. She will teach two courses in shorthand and a class in office practice.

Shower Falls but Rain Missed Canyon for Week

A light shower fell in Canyon Sunday, which measured only .15 of an inch.

Several sections of the county received good rains over the week end, but no moisture of consequence was received in Canyon.

In spite of the drouth, farmers are planting their row crops, and the ground is generally reported to be in good condition.

Cattle are doing fine, with very fine grass.

WHY ARGUE THE OBVIOUS?

It would sound strange to hear Mr. Henry Kaiser stand up and argue that ships were essential to the war effort. Fortunately, he doesn't have to. Everyone knows it. But there are industries just as essential as shipbuilding, whose wartime operating difficulties are immensely aggravated because their essentiality has never been adequately recognized.

Such an industry is retail distribution. The clothes on our backs, the shoes we wear, the food we eat, must be put within our reach by the distribution industry. No service is more essential. Speaking for the industry, David R. Craig, president of the American Retail Federation, has this to say of merchandising: "We are essential because we are the industry . . . upon which the public must rely in order to obtain the goods which it must have. We do not know of any other way by which the civilian public can get its goods. The retailer is the quartermaster to the civilian population. . . . The real question is whether the civilian population is essential."

If the civilian population is essential, then the industry which supplies it with necessities must also be essential. Since no reasonable person questions the need for a hardworking, highly productive civilian population in wartime, why should the job which the merchant must carry on be minimized? Why should the merchants, in addition to feeding and clothing us, be forced to argue the obvious—that efficient distribution of necessities is as vital as an adequate supply of necessities?

A subscriber thinks that The News is unfair to young men who are not in the armed service, and cites an instance of a young man whose business place was painted yellow by so-called patriots (the yellow kind who refuse to operate in the light), and the fact that this young man soon died of tuberculosis. The News warned several weeks ago that local citizens should not persecute men who were not in the service. We deplored the statement of General Hershey asking the public to shame young men to get into the army; and we urged them not to use yellow paint. The public seldom knows the history of men whom they are criticising. What we do object to is the regulations of Selective Service which defers large blocks of men, who jumped into war jobs simply for the purpose of evading military service. For instance, the carpenter who quit a war job at $115 per week to work on a farm at $50 per month; and so on down the line.

In no instance has The News ever recommended that the public criticize or persecute any man who is not in the service—there is always a reason. But the public can be of great service to Selective Service Boards in reporting to local boards any violations of which they know—reporting men who secure deferments for one occupation and then changing over to another occupation which may be more profitable, or which is not preferred.

The United Nations are doing a lot of talking about the invasion of Europe this summer. Wonder if this talk is more or less for propaganda sake? From two wide separated sources, we read that there is little probability of an attack on Europe from "down under" this year. These sources say that Hitler would be glad to get rid of Italy so that we could feed the 40 million starving people; that Italy is knocked out so far as a fighting power is concerned. That to invade through the Balkans would disrupt the good feeling with Russia; that the submarines are still too powerful to allow adequate men and materials to be landed in Europe for an invasion through Norway or France, say both of these sources. As conclusive evidence, both sources state that Hitler is not afraid of such an invasion and is concentrating his forces for a powerful drive on Russia this month. Most Americans have been led to believe that invasion was only a few weeks off, and such reports as these only add to the confusion and uncertainty of the war. It merely shows that none of us have any idea as to what is going on in this war, or what is likely to happen in the near future.

Organized labor is almost certain to lose all of the benefits it has gained during the past years by a bill which is certain to pass in Congress. Under this bill any one who calls a strike during a national emergency is subject to a prison term. Most of the strikes have been in the ranks of CIO unions, the brain child of John L. Lewis. Lewis now confines his efforts solely to the miners, having bet his job as head of CIO that he could defeat Roosevelt for a third term. He is now trying to organize the farmers and at the same time re-affiliate with AFL. If Lewis could succeed in this, he could swing such a solid block of votes that he would be a power in any national election. Lewis would like to be President of the United States, and if his present plans work out he has a good chance—provided he keeps out of jail that long. While labor suffered many abuses at the hands of capital in years past, there can be no excuse for the present unpatriotic conduct of union leaders in handicapping the war efforts by strikes.

The coal strike was again called off by John L. Lewis after the miners had been out for nearly a week. Lewis let it be understood that the strike had not been settled, and will be renewed in two weeks unless a contract is wrangled out of the operators by that time. Lewis is still playing partner to Hitler by refusing to budge an inch in his demands for a $2 per day boost in pay. The President ordered the men back to work, but it is very unlikely that they would have resumed operations without word from Lewis. These union miners are under the thumb of Lewis, and will do anything he tells them to do. The fact that their strike would interfere with war efforts does not appeal to the rank and file of the miners, who know that they hold their jobs only by keeping in the good grace of Lewis.

It has been proved that the army wasted 21% of its food because no check was made in advance of the men who would be away on leave. That is now remedied and cooks prepare only for the number of men who are actually in camp. This wastage for more than a year has been responsible for the present food shortage. While most civilians waste little food, all of us ate more than was good for us, and this rationing program may be a good thing for the health of the nation, in spite of the many inconveniences to the people and to the food merchants.

The longer we live, the less we know for certain. The longer the war lasts the more confused are some things in connection with the war. The army has been discharging large numbers of able bodied men because they had reached 38. Now every Selective Service Board must send married men who have no children, and a large per cent of them are nearing the border-line of the age limit. Which would be the economical thing: Keep able bodied men in service, regardless of age, or training another group of men who will have to be discharged under the age rule just about the time they become useful? As we say, we sure know very little—for sure.

The people of Argentina at last decided to cut away from Hitler and join up with the United Nations. It was the last South American nation to harbor the Nazi spies which have operated in the Americas. The army and the people decided that the United Nations were going to win the war; therefore, to save face with the balance of the Americas they must join the Allies. The pro-Axis president was kicked out and a solid American front has lined up against Hitler and his gang of thieves and murderers.

Japan has won the war—provided the Allies will let her consolidate her gains and take advantage of the booty which has been stolen. But, unfortunately for the Japs, the United Nations are not going to leave the Japs alone. There is no longer any disillusionment about the kind of enemy we face. While the feeling at first prevailed that we could not finish off Japan in a few months after whipping hitler, that attitude is changing and the United Nations are fighting both of these enemies.

OPA is going to reduce food prices by giving subsidies. In other words, the public will be kidded by having prices reduced a little, and on the other hand taxed to make up the subsidy. Robbing Peter to pay Paul is an old, old game. Whatever we save on food prices will be taken away in additional taxes in order to pay this subsidy.

French unity seems to prevail after the long battle between the various conflicting factions. Frenchmen have been spending more time fighting each other than they have in fighting the enemy. Americans could gain a lesson from the tragedy of France.

Practically all of Randall county's negroes have been called to the armed service. There were not many to start with, but we doubt if any county in the state has sent a larger percentage of the colored men.

I GIVE YOU TEXAS
by BOYCE HOUSE

I am not bound to win but I am bound to be true. I am not bound to succeed but I am bound to live up to what light I have. I must stand with anybody that stands right, stand with him while he is right and part with him when he goes wrong.—Abraham Lincoln.

Your columnist never has been proficient at games—but I like to play dominoes, anyhow. My favorite opponent used to be a hotel proprietor in a West Texas town (when I lived out there). He was a good player and on the rather rare occasion that I would plunk down a rock and score 15 or 20, he would drily remark: "Blind hog found an acorn."

That will give you the general idea as to my ability.

However, I used to mystify acquaintances by informing them that I had such delicate powers of perception that I could tell, when a domino was face down, which end had the most spots on it, provided it was not a double. I would spin the domino and explain that the end with the most spots would wobble a little differently; though, of course, since they didn't have such marvelous eyesite, they could not see the difference. They would scoff—but I picked the right end every time.

The dominoes had an eagle design on the back and the eagle faced the way that the most spots were.

Folks:

Meet Jim Robertson, county assessor and collector of Wichita Falls recently. He campaigned by handing out corn-cob pipes—and has kept it up. Letters addressed to him as "Corncob" Robertson are promptly delivered. He has given away over 70,000 pipes—always has a few in his pockets. He's serving his fifth term in office.

George McEntire of the U. Ranch near Sterling City says of our mutual friend, Shine Philips (author of "Big Spring"): "I have always felt sorry for Shine—at heart a cowboy but he was unable to be one on account of his size. As you know, cowboys come in only two sizes: six feet, two and named 'Slim' and five feet, four and dubbed 'Shorty.'"

(Shine is betwixt and between these sizes.)

GET IN LINE

In Berlin the Axis chiefs had gathered to sign another infamous agreement. They wanted to make a great propaganda stunt out of it, so they arranged a big table in Hitler's headquarters, with the document, pen, and ink. Just as Adolph, Benito, and the Jap ambassador lined up for the photographer a big cockroach scrambled across the historic document. Hitler was furious, "Hey," he yelled, "get in line!"

I've been looking at a car that wasn't there

I WENT window shopping again yesterday.

I stared into a big, empty automobile showroom downtown—and pretty soon I saw a car.

She was kind of different from the bus I'm driving now. She was long, sleek and powerful-looking. The windshield went clear around her. There were no gears to shift. The cooling system was sealed—you never touched it.

She had synthetic rubber tires that wear like iron. And fast? Man! With that new high-octane gas her motor certainly packed a beautiful punch!

So—I made up my mind to buy her, then and there. And I will, too. One of these days, after the war's been over for a while, I'll walk in and drive her home. And I'll slap the money for her right down on the counter.

You see, I'm in the Payroll Savings Plan. Been in it ever since it started in my plant. Every single payday, I'm tucking away all I can in War Bonds.

That money's going to come back to me in ten years—and bring more money with it. Four dollars for every three.

I get a real kick out of thinking how that money's piling up for me. Money that's going to let me have some of the things I've always wanted to have—do some of the things I've always wanted to do.

Chances are, you're already in the Payroll Savings Plan—buying War Bonds—doing your bit. But don't stop there. Raise your sights! Do your best!

MORE MONEY INTO BONDS

The average American family "should and must" be investing 25 per cent of its income in war bonds by the end of 1943, Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau, Jr., said recently in announcing a new "streamlined" bond campaign. "Of the 45 billion dollars still necessary to complete our war financing needs for 1943," Morgenthau said, "at least 18 billion dollars, or almost 25 per cent of the national income for the remainder of the year should come from purchases of bonds by individuals. From those workers $1,000 to $5,000 net, who will have seven-eighths of all the current available individual savings, 25 cents of each dollar is not too much to expect. In fact, they should and must invest more if our goal is to be met."

MAY STILL REDUCE POINTS

Retailers may lower the point values of rationed meats and fats which are in danger of spoiling until July 31, OPA has decided. These emergency reductions must be accompanied by a cut of at least 25 per cent in the established ceiling price of the item. If the point value is lowered more than 25 per cent, the price must be reduced proportionately, but never more than 50 per cent below the ceiling.

ICE BOXES FOR CIVILIANS

A total of 239,575 ice boxes are to be produced in the next three months for civilian use, according to a new order of WPB. Despite limited factory capacities and scarcity of materials, the production rate is expected to reach about 75,000 units a month.

NOW TO GET FARM SUPPLIES

According to a new WPB priority regulation, a dealer must furnish farm supplies if the farmer signs a certificate stating: "I certify to the War Production Board that I am a farmer and that the suppliec covered by this order are needed now and will be used for the operation of a farm." A total of 140 items are affected by this order. Such certification will enable the farmer to buy up to $25 worth of any of the items on the list, and more if the certificate is approved by his local county farm rationing committee.

BUTTER PRICE REDUCED

A reduction of five to six cents a pound in the retail price of butter will go into effect Thursday, June 10. The OPA intends to effect the roll-back with a minimum of financial loss to the dairy industry, from the farm through the retailer. With the subsidy paid to them by the government, buyers of butterfat will get as much for their butter as before, and will be expected to continue to pay going prices to the farmer. "Butter shall include butter manufactured by a farmer on his farm from milk produced on his farm" according to an amendment to Maximum Price Regulation No. 289 under which maximum prices were established for creamery butter.

FUNDS FOR FLOODED AREAS

Credit to aid farm families in the midwestern flood area and to bring flooded cropland back into wartime food production will be available from a fund of $235,000 set up by the Farm Security Administration to provide emergency food, shelter, and medical attention for homeless farm families. FSA county supervisors are authorized to make small grants, usually $30 or less, to distressed families for emergency needs. When families can return to their farms, FSA loans will be made to those without credit sources to put in new crops. About $780,000 has been made available for such loans.

OPA PROSECUTES VIOLATORS

In the four months ended April 30, the courts handed down decisions in 1,495 civil and criminal cases involving 1,676 defendants accused of violating the price and rationing regulations, according to OPA. Of the total, 1,437 cases involving 1,613 defendants were decided in favor of OPA. Only 58 cases involving 63 defendants, or less than 4 per cent of the total, were dismissed.

FLAGS FOR FLAG DAY

Flags for Flag Day, June 14 are still available, but there will not be enough to meet the demand, says the War Production Board. Manufacturers are still permitted to use four types of cotton fabric and two types of rayon in making flags for civilians. Silk, commonly used for high-quality flags before the war, has not been available for some time. Wool may be used only for flags for the armed services. Metal flag accessories for civilian use are out.

GO FISHING WITHOUT GAS

It's okay with Mr. Ickes if the country's ardent fishermen continue their sport but he says, "We still think it's a good idea for them to fish when they can and where they can without extra gasoline." Gasoline for fishing trips won't be available, no matter how productive of food the sport may be.

MILK ADDED TO RATION LIST

Evaporated and condensed milk are now on the list of rationed foods with a value of one points will be made available for such purchases. The rationing is intended to conserve limited supplies for infant feeding, special diets, and for persons unable to obtain adequate supplies of fresh milk.

DON'T WRITE "ROUND ROBINS"

Writing soldiers "round robins," or news letters, and writing composite replies by the group is inadvisable, the War Department has warned. Replies tend to become anthologies of military information, and a custom that arose from innocent motives become security hazard.

LUMBER PRODUCTION GOOD

Lumber production in the United States for the first quarter of 1943 is estimated at 7,141,109,000 board feet. This is close to the first-quarter goal needed to meet military and essential civilian requirements of 32 billion board feet for 1943.

NO MORE WHEAT FOR FEED

Sales of wheat for feed have been discontinued by the Commodity Credit Corporation. However, farmers may still obtain some feed wheat through dealers and county AAA committees to whom shipments have already been made. Additional orders will not be accepted by the Corporation unless the state U. S. Department of Agriculture War Board determined that the wheat is needed to feed livestock during June.

SOUTHWEST DOING GREAT WAR JOB

Oklahoma, Louisiana and Texas citizens are turning out billions of dollars' worth of war goods, buying hundreds of millions of dollars' worth of war bonds, planting and harvesting millions of acres of food crops, processing billions of pounds of food items, and thousands are serving voluntarily in numerous war jobs, the regional Office of War Information said in a roundup of war activities in the Southwest. Between May 1, 1941, and May 8, 1943, a total of $889,153,000 in war bonds had been purchaser in the three states. A total of $6,276,715,000 in major war contracts has been let in the region since June, 1940, OWI said. Approximately 650,000 citizens are registered with OCD to handle volunteer war jobs, OWI's report stated.

ADJUST AAA CROP PAYMENTS

Farmers who fail to plant 90 per cent of their war crop goals will not suffer the regular agricultural conservation deductions if the weather has interfered with their crop plans. The War Food Administration has relaxed the provisions in all areas where hay and pasture goals have been established. The action is designed to offset the effect of recent unfavorable weather conditions.

SHOE PRICES REGULATED

Shoes, chiefly women's models which are made with such sole materials as plastic, felt, wood, combinations of wool and cotton, cord and friction belting and some other fabric and synthetic substances, are now under ceiling prices. Fabrics used for the uppers include linen, gabardine, faille, "imitation leather" and other types of cloth. Prices set by OPA for manufacturers of these shoes range from around $1.25 to about $4.00 a pair.

ARMY TO HELP FARMERS

The Army is going to help repair flood-damaged automotive farm machinery. The War Department has announced that mobile automotive repair units of the Army Service Forces are standing by in the recent flooded areas of six central states ready to give farmers such help in the repair of damaged automotive equipment used for farm purposes as is possible without interfering with necessary military training. Farmers who have no facilities for getting their machinery back into operation should report to their local county agricultural agents.

TYPEWRITER RENTERS

Persons renting Class A typewriters(standard size machines made since 1934) will be given until June 30 either to purchase the machines or to return them to their owners, OPA has announced.

REPORT SHOWS TRAFFIC DROP

Throughout the nation, 479 automatic counters on rural roads in 38 states recorded traffic in April as 56 per cent of pre-war normal. Motor-fuel tax collections in 28 states in April totaled $38,209,000 and were three-fourths of pre-war normal, according to reports from state motor vehicle administrators.

TEXAS PLANTS GET ARMY-NAVY AWARD

Two Texas industrial plants have been granted the Army-Navy Production Award for outstanding performance on war work, Under Secretary of War Robert P. Patterson and Under Secretary of the Navy James V. Forrestal, announced. They are the American Well & Prospecting Company, Corsicana, and the Lufkin Foundry & Machine Company, Lufkin.

SCRAP REPORT RELEASED

More than 450,000 pounds of copper and brass scrap were moved to processors for remelting from Southwestern yards during the three-week period between May 1 and May 22, according to figures released by Gen. John A. Hulen, WPB regional salvage manager. Dealers' copper scrap inventories on May 22 were shown as 3,633,905 pounds compared to 3,099,000 pounds on February 28 this year.

Alaska Highway! for Your After-War Trip?

U. S. Army Engineers couldn't be told that it couldn't be done. Like Superman, they cut and smoothed the wilds to Alaska. The Al-Can highway leads nearer to Victory Day, when you can hope to head your car north... or to the Rio Grande—or where you choose—leaving war worries in your wake. But will you have a car?

Not a new one; not soon after Peace, experts agree. Your best bet is to preserve your present car for the future. At the same time you'll preserve it for your essential driving today, by recognizing its ruthless enemy—engine acid!

Mere normal combustion has always left acid in any engine after it has stopped. But in running often, driving long, and heating the engine well, you mostly dispersed this acid. Then along came rationing and limited driving. Plenty of time now for acid to gnaw and corrode inner parts that you cannot easily replace. But what familiar thing bars corrosion? Good metal plating!

And your engine's insides can have anti-corrosive OIL-PLATING—attached as closely as any fine plating, by Conoco Nth motor oil. It's patented. It includes the modern synthetic that behaves almost "magnet-like" to maintain OIL-PLATING—even for days—where acid could otherwise freely attack. Block it! OIL-PLATE today. Your Conoco Mileage Merchant knows your right grade of Conoco Nth oil. Continental Oil Company

"WHAT WE ARE FIGHTING FOR"

By Gene L. Wyatt

Two years ago, our nation was at peace doing our utmost to stay out of the European conflict. Then, one quiet Sunday morning, our back door neighbor shattered our hopes. Today, we are in a way fighting for much more than the average American realizes.

Are we Americans fighting because we want something from other nations? Are we fighting because we are interested in the acquisition of territory at the expense of nations too weak to stand in our way? Are we fighting because we seek to impose upon other nations—by age-old methods of tyranny or in any other way—a philosophy of our way of life, which we in our superior wisdom believe they should follow?

In each instance, to ask the question is to answer it. We Americans covet nothing that other nations have, nor do we have any desire to thrust upon any of them our own philosophy of life, for all its virtues.

Then what are we fighting for?

First of all, we are fighting for our own lives. This war is a war of extermination. Our enemies are absolutely ruthless. They are not famed for their chivalry in the treatment of the combatants or civilians. Moreover, they hate the United States and the Americans with greater intensity than they hate any other nation and any other people. So to assert that in this war we are fighting for our very lives is no overstatement in the least.

In addition to fighting for our lives we are fighting to defend the inconsiderable physical and tangible assets of democracy. Ours is a land which has indeed been blessed by nature. Our soil is fertile; our climate is healthful. We are rich in rivers and forests, in oil and mineral resources. Out of these great natural blessings, which God has given us, we have built upon this continent in the last century and a half, a great nation. With the toil of the peoples of the Old World who came to this land of ours to escape oppression, we have developed these resources until today our nation and the products of our national ingenuity are second to none. The dictators lust for these physical assets of America. It is to protect and to preserve them that we are fighting.

But our lives and resources and goods, fond of them though we may be, are not the only things that we Americans are fighting for in this total war. In fact, they are not even the most important things that we are fighting for. Far from it.

As freeborn Americans, we have something which we cherish even more than life itself. That is our LIBERTY, our democratic way of life and our government.

It seems to me that the most impressive answer to the question why our nation is at war with Germany, Japan and Italy is to be found in a comparison between our way of life and government—and the government and the way of life in the Fascist states— and in the unhappy lands which they have succeeded in subjugating.

In our nation, we live under a 150-year-old charter of liberty, which we call the Bill of Rights,—a document that represents an epitome of the charcteristics of human freedom, democracy and decency for which our land has stood since the United States of America was born. Our birth took place in an epitome of that way of life, which is the very antithesis of the way of life of the jungle personified by the German fanatic, Adolf Hitler, and his bloodthirsty cohorts of Fascist Japan and Fascist Italy, who are his partners in the perfidious plot to enslave all the peoples of the earth.

In the dictator controlled nations is there such a thing as free-speech and assembly? Is there such a thing as religious freedom? Is there such a thing as free press? Is there such a thing as a trial by jury of the peers for the person accused of crime? Is a person in those countries secure in his own home from the clutches of the secret police and spy systems which are the indispensable weapons of a dictator?

The answer to these questions is known to everyone. Every precious right which we Americans enjoy under the provisions of our Constitution and the Bill of Rights is non-existent in the countries dominated by Hitler, Mussolini, and the Japanese assassins, who have joined with them for world conquest. Up until the last few years, the right to peaceful assembly, the right to security in our homes, and all the other rights inherent in our constitutional setup had always been taken by most of us pretty much as a matter of course.

For generations, we have given very slight thought to these things because they were more or less like the air we breathe—ours to have and to hold without effort. But when in recent years, we witnessed millions of people being deprived of these rights by the brutal methods of dictators, we began to give thought not only to the meaning of our liberties but to the preservation of our spiritual blessings for ourselves and our fellow Americans.

Today, these principles of liberty and justice by which Americans have lived for more than a century and a half looks a great deal more important to us than they did only a few short months ago. What we always took for granted is not taken for granted any more. Now that they are gravely threatened, we realize fully just how enormous are the blessings of our way of life. We know that if the dictators ruling Germany Japan and Italy were to attain the victory over democracy which is their objective, they would attempt immediately to erase every freedom our people possess and cherish.

Without freedom of speech, without freedom of religion, without security in our homes, and without the other fundamental human rights which Americans have enjoyed since the birth of our nation, we would regard life as scarcely worth living. Perhaps, there are peoples who can be content without the rights of a free human being, but Americans are not of that breed.

It is for the preservation of these rights—these basic rights—that we Americans are fighting primarily; and in their defense, we will fight with all our strength and ingenuity until victory is ours. For these rights, we are determined to toil, to slave, and to sacrifice without stint. We are satisfied that no effort or sacrifice can be too great in order to pass on, intact, to the next generation the heritage of freedom and justice handed down to us by our forefathers which is now in our custody.

Detachment Ball Club Defeats Local Team

"Play ball!" Once again that famous cry of the often-jeered umpire started a group of eighteen men on their road to fame or misfortune. The scene was the ball field of West Texas State College where men of the 350th College Training Detachment met and defeated the Canyon High School ball club.

Getting off to a slow start the men of the Training Detachment made only two hits with resulting runs made by Alfonso Valls, who later became the high score man of the game, and Bill Higby. But as the game proceeded the Training Detachment showed their true colors and abilities by running their score to a final of thirty-six runs to the Canyon High School's disappointing one.

Outstanding players of the detachment ball club were Bob Vrdsky who struck out six men in three innings; Alfonso Valls who made the highest score of five runs of which three were home runs; Ellington, Poole, and Elliot who each made four runs; and, Toone, Higby, Johnson, and Hummert who each made home runs. Valls and Elliot substituted in the pitcher's box striking out six and five players respectively.

Capt. R. C. Corbyn Takes Over 350th

Captain Richard C. Corbyn, previously of the 75th College Training Detachment at Tulsa, Okla., arrived here Thursday, June 3, to take command of the 350th College Training Detachment.

Captain Corbyn is a medium sized man, about 5 feet 10 inches, with dark eyes, and dark hair silvered with gray. His military manner is personified not orfly in the way he walks and sits but also in the way he talks. His answers to questions are concise and to the point.

Captain Corbyn has been in the Air Corps for the past two years. Previous to this time, he was with the infantry.

He attended the Southern Methodist University in Dallas, and knocked on the doors of West Point, as he ruefully admits, until 1936 when he went into the army on active duty. He has seen service in Arizona, Colorado, New Mexico, Utah, Panama, and Guatemala. More recently he was stationed at the University of Tulsa, in Oklahoma, Randolph Field, Texas, and Washington, D. C.

Captain Corbyn stated: "My policy will include a reduction in the number of restrictions and a tightening up on military efficiency, military bearing, and neatness of appearance of members of the command." That statement is a key to the character of our Commanding Officer. He expects one to look like a soldier, act like a soldier, and conduct himself like a soldier.

Honor System Is Established

An honor system has been established at the College Training Detachment, in which each student is on his honor to abide by the rules and the code of the system. The Honor System of the 350th College Training Detachment governs the honor and character of each individual Air-Crew Student in the deetachment. His verbal or written word is accepted as truth, without question.

A committee composed of one member from each flight was elected by the flight members, and Air-Crew Student M. E. Layne was elected by the committee as chairman. All violations of the honor system will be reported to the honor committee, which will investigate the breach.

Members of the honor committee are Chairman M. E. Layne, J. T. Hext, H. L. Webb, J. T. Weatherford, W. E. Cunningham, M. J. Voltin, S. E. Downey, and D. E. Webb.

Accompanying the establishment of the honor system are the promotions of the Student Officers and the rearrangement of flight operations. A new type of drill is now being practiced, and perfection is the objective of every man. The Student Officers now hold the ranks of student lieutenant-colonel, majors, captains, and lieutenants. Also, the posts of non-commissioned student officers were filled. Leading the operations of the detachment will be the student wing officers, who are directly responsible to the officers. The student wing officers are as follows: Commanding Officer, Student Lieutenant-Colonel B. B. Ozier; Adjutant, Student Major R. Buniva; Supply Officer, Student 1st Lt. R. E. Lucas.

The two groups will be led by Commanding Officers, Student Majors W. P. Hopson and D. Smith. Each group is divided into two squadrons, and the squadrons are consecutively named "W," "T," "S," and "C." Commanding Squadron "W" is Student Capt. J. A. Gill; Squadron "T" is commanded by Student Capt. M. G. Kosanovich; the commander of Squadron "S" is Student Capt. E. N. Parker; and the commanding officer of Squadron "C" is Student Capt. P. A. Robertson.

Miss Jean Pierce New Dietician

Miss Jean Pierce, who has been the dietician at the Scottish Rite Dormitory for Girls at the University of Texas, arrived in Canyon last Sunday to take over the post of Detachment Dietician. Miss Pierce is a graduate of Texas State College for Women.

Miss Clark and Miss Barrett, the past dieticians who have been doing a fine bit of work with the eating situation, are being relieved this summer by Miss Pierce to teach several courses at the college.

At the Scottish Rite Dormitory, Miss Pierce was commonly known as "Jeanie." She is a native of Amarillo, where she has lived most of her life. At her former position, she had under her a group of enslaved fellows whom she led around by their noses to do her bidding as waiters. She has had some fine experience in the handling of men and should quickly become familiar with the military program placed before her.

The arrogance of age must submit to be taught by youth.—Edmund Burke.

Have You Ever?

—Grant Landfried

Have you ever felt Grape Nuts in your cold soft bed
As you slip beneath the covers and lay down your sleepy head?
Have you ever been short sheeted
so you jam your swollen feet
Into or maybe clear on through a heavy G. I. sheet?
Have you ever climbed into your bed with intent for naught but sleep
And have it fall upon the floor in a bumpy crumpled heap?
If you have missed these horrors,
there's but one thing I can say,
You're not in the army, for sure,
but, brother, there'll come a day!

Wondering at Random

Why don't we work up an all soldier variety show? There is all kinds of talent here at the detachment and several of the fellows really know stuff when it comes to directing musical shows. Several people have mentioned it to us, but no one seems to do anything about it. Isn't there some brave person who will really get behind this thing to get it moving? The profits (if any) could either be invested in War Bonds, or the money could be spent on detachment equipment.

Students Doing Fine Work— Says Dr. Meyer

—By Dan Hewlett

"The Aviation Students now attending West Texas State are above the average run of college students, especially in attitude, interest, and cooperation," stated Dr. A. M. Meyer, Detachment Coordinator, in a recent interview.

"In the past the relationship between the Aviation Student and the instructor has not been very close; however, the teachers of the various courses are attempting to ar-

Again you are invited to come with us and visit our cubby-hole to see the inside of the ole Army life. It seems as though there has only been a snap of the fingers since we last got together, but in the life of a student, many things can happen in that short time.

SCENES ABOUT THE CAMPUS

A woman is someone who will need new drapes to go with the upholstery she has in mind to match the drapes, but the guy that said a gentleman is a man who takes the blame on himself when some woman is really to blame, just doesn't know modern women. The latter might apply to Donald Webb who claims to have this love-making down pat, but hasn't had a date since he's been in the Army. Poor Don, the ole Army life is giving you a new outlook on life. . . . Apologies are now in order to Fred Waidel who wishes it known that he looked into the matter of the two cute girls in Randall Hall, and they have left for the summer. We're sorry Fred, maybe we can help again. . . . Blair Woodside has really been on the ball this past week. Wouldn't you if your girl was coming down from Ohio? That part of the country puts out some lovelies, so Blair had better watch his friends (?) . . . "Don't you just loovee this Davy? And just look at this color." That's what David Waite had to put up with all last Saturday when he escorted his girl to Amarillo for a shopping trip. . . . Congratulations goes to John Volp, soon to be a proud uncle. . . . Here is Charles Taylor's opinion on girls, straight from Charlie. A girl is sometimes like the ocean—she may look green, but she can get awfully rough. . . . More racket, or what-have-you, has been added to Buff Courts' noisy occupants upon the arrival of George Steinmetz's clarinet.

FEATURE OF THE WEEK

Wailand Wilson has been picked on enough for his sleeping, but this story is worth his being picked on again. There he sat in the front row, with his eyes closed and his mouth open from one hour to the next, day after day. At last the professor could stand it no longer. One day, when the discussion had been particularly intricated, he stopped in the middle of his lecture and said:

"Gentlemen, we have been working on the hardest problems in this course, and there sits the man who needs it most, sound asleep."

Wailand gently opened one eye and whispered so that all could hear, "I wish to heck I were."

WHAT WOULD HAPPEN IF

Don Smith had to date a girl on open post and couldn't go swimming. . . . Gene Simmons got confined for the week end. . . . George Phillip had to keep quiet in ranks. . . . Dick Turner had his wings. . . . "Stinky" Steinmetz didn't get stuck on a blind date. . . . Claude Turner would quit being so appealing to the fairer sex. . . . James Siddon's girl didn't go home every week-end. . . . Jerry Suson couldn't phone Austin. . . . Charles Vychopen would give these girls a tumble. . . . Students officers vocabulary included more besides "pick up that step" and "dress it up." . . . Someone would admit that Texas is a wonderful state.

COMMISSIONS CALLS

Captain Corbyn had a 60-hour day instead of a measley 24 hours. . . . Captain Worsham ran out of sulfa pills. . . . Lt. Ballard didn't censor this paper. . . . Captain Jacobi found all his tools (continued from last week). . . . Lt. Essing would write a short story on his past leave. . . . Lt. Wray had all the G. I. shoes repaired.

NON COMS CORNER

Pfc. West lost his thermometer. . . . Pvt. Covel forgot to yell "Drive them on." . . . Pfc. Glass really fell in love. . . . Pfc. Stromberg forgot to fill the Coke machine. . . . Pvt. Johnson became an MP . . . Cpl. McGee forgot to take his morning shower. . . . Cpl. Anton didn't smile. . . . Sgt. Graham didn't have a car. . . . Sgt. Miller went to Amarillo and bumped into certain people. . . . T-Sgt. Huffstickler lost his quiet manner. . . . Cpl. Sammons was seen without combing his hair, or better yet, without any at all.

FLOWERS OF THE WEEK

To the new C. O. who is responsible for the new spirit around the campus. . . . To Don Hewlet and Grant Landfried for the words of the marching songs that Stafford Hall students sing with pride. . . . To the men of Buff Courts for taking care of the surrounding area during their off time. . . . To the songs "Let's Get Lost" and "Cabin In the Sky," that makes students just a little dreamy during, and following the week end. . . . To the cooks for the fine food being served lately. . . . To James Wells and David Webb for the blowing of taps each night.

WEEDS OF THE WEEK

To the fellows that start false rumors which lead to much confusion among students. . . . To those who fail to comply with open post regulations. . . . To those who may take advantage of the new honor system. . . . To the cigarette smokers who don't know where their butts and burnt matches belong. . . . To the fellows that don't know how to turn a radio off at night. . . . To the freely flowing water in the mess hall.

EDITORIAL OF THE WEEK

Ragin' Rumors—This war, as well as the last, is contaminated with rumors. In fact, this war's greatest weapon is the rumor—propaganda is a direct result of the rumor.

Whenever a bunch of fellows get together, they are bound to have a "bull session" or a "gab race." Ordinarily these are harmless until some one individual takes a statement meant to be taken jokingly, serious.

Let's trace an average rumor—Jim phoned his wife or best girl, who lived in Dallas, and is talking to her now.

"Listen sweet, be sure to come up here this week end if you want to see me, 'cause a friend of mine, heard from his roommate, who knows the flight sergeant that said he heard the secretary in the office say that Flight T will be shipped Monday, and that means me. Try to come up if possible."

This is a rumor. It isn't anything bad—but it sure does upset a lot of fellows. And when they find out the truth they get what is known as the "Maroon mule" (army slang for bad temper.)

O. K. men, let's not spread the bull we hear going around; it may grow into something serious. Let's believe only what we hear from our squadron and group commander and what we read on the bulletin board. . . . Men behave and think in men's ways.

—Joe E. Tomes.

Well, this ends up our little visit to our cubby-hole, and here's hoping I see you next week. But before leaving here's a little something that I picked up around the post. . . . The gold spoon goes to the cadet who thought that March 4th was a military command!

Flying the Beam

Flight 4

Chick "Iron Hand" Taylor has been going around with that fer away look in his eye. Maybe it's that picture of Lana Turner he looks at.

The noise from room 5 of Terrill Courts is not a tornado. It's just "Blow Hard" Sliwa directing play for everything that takes place.

Room 6 has been tormented by Blondy Waggoner's stories of his near marriage. Wasn't love grand and wasn't it almost expensive Jack?

The newly adopted name for Don Tower is "True Blue"—ask him why.

The "Gig King" and "Wild Man" of the detachment, Dick Turner, has calmed down considerably lately. Could it be L. P.? We bet that it is.

If on some Thursday afternoon you should see a lone figure stumbling home from the country, don't feel sorry for him. It's only Don Schiller getting in from his 3 mile run late again.

Onions to Wiley and Wedin for spoiling everyone's good time in ranks.

When is Walt Disney going to come and claim C. E. West as one of his comics?

If a red afternoon and blue evening were ever spent, they were spent by "Hip Hop" Walker last Friday after his check ride.

Block Busters

Flight Seven

Gill spent Sunday afternoon searching for mermaids, but it is said he heard the "Angels Sing."

That grin on Robert Kurtz's face is not one of pain, but pure delight, as his mother, father, and sweetheart are coming to see him next week end.

Corporal Sammons has taken an unusual interest in the Canyon, especially in its virtues.

Flight Seven extends a note of thanks to Jerald "Squirrel" Everett for the use of his date Saturday night.

The new Neon sign over the Aviatrix Club will probably read, Flight Seven Club, in the future.

Anyone finding one or more fingers will please return same to Sheldon Greenborg, who will undoubtedly notify the owner.

Coach Miller is considering a coke machine at the midway point of the cross-country course. He is trying to get the best out of us.

Jasper Elliot is fast becoming the song bird of Flight Seven.

For future reference the following names have become one and the same: Bugs for Damron, Mickey Mouse for Bledsoe, Washout for Darby, Ginsburg for Greenburg, Blubber for Gable, and Birddog for Fuller.

Joublanc and Koecher have been juggling their budget for three days now. It still won't balance.

In the spring a young man's fancy lightly turns to thought of the change of state, the transference of heat and magnetism.

Dr. Gable plans to conduct a short course on the why's and wherefore's of the Einstein Theory, its comings and shortcomings.

Contrary to the reports of Group Two, there were representatives from Group One at the recent track meet. If they will recall, it was Flight Seven of Group One that was the best flight.

Flight No. 3

Bernard Glogas

They gave them wings and 65 H. P. engines and the lads of flight three better known as the "eager beavers," went forth into the wild blue yonder. After five hours they took their check rides and results ranged from the fine performance by "Wild Bill" Higby who received the plandits of "You have to be good if I compliment you" to the mediocre flight of the writer Beau Glo, whose efforts could best be described as Les Miserable.

Most of the fellows are coming along well and should have completed their ten hours by this week end. Plenty of fundamental knowledge is crammed into that short period and though there are no "hot" pilots yet, hours of flying time will bring forth some fine aviators.

Strict reversal of the usual case was Joe Hext who had set his sights for bombardier, but learned from his instructor that he has great possibilities as a pilot.

Did someone say furlough for flight three?

Edwin Johnson tried to improve on the technique of landing by making a one point landing. After experimenting, both he and his instructor agreed that the conventional three-point landing would have to do for the duration.

David Johnson appointed himself as convoy over an army truck traveling down the highway. His instructor decided that if anyone needed convoying, it was Johnson, so said instructor became slightly enraged and convoyed Johnson from his course.

Veterans of the air, "Squirrel" Evoritt and John Garrard, have decided to set up an agency and charge for advice to rookie fliers. These experienced sages with previous training of fifteen hours are constantly besieged by rookies desiring additional tutoring and hints on flight, and the lads can't see themselves giving advise free of charge—the profiteers.

"Laughing Boy" Jenkins finally had the smile wiped off when he came down from his final checkride. His instructor wasn't quite in stitches either.

Roses are red,
Violets are blue,
Furloughs are fine!

"The midnight ride of Edward Miles—

It went for miles and miles and miles."—Nuff said.

The love life—ah yes, the love life. The voice over the telephone—it was fine saying "number please," it was finer on a date—say the two Fuquas, Clyde and Gordon.

Bob Buntin requests that the local girls stop calling him for dates, as his fiance has come in from Missouri.

Handsome, muscular Dick Eichman still hasn't given the coeds a break. Instead of "tea for twoing" on week ends, he spends his time acquiring a suntan that would make Mahatma Ghandi turn green with envy.

Robert Murray goes around with the faraway look in his eyes. After the visit of his fiance anything that might happen would be anti-climatic.

Jilted but not wilted—Bill Higby, Daniel Klar and Ace Diamond. "Oh, well," they say, "We've been stood up by prettier girls than they."

What's the attraction out of the north window of the stage house.

Louis Kellett finally crawled out of hibernation and spent the week end entertaining and being entertained by "the" woman from Lubbock. Says Kellett, "had a fine week end, except that I spent half of it trying to get a hamburger at Bob's!

A furlough! Fine! Fine!

What happened to the married boys who didn't show up for flight Sunday morning?

Those Scotch Romeos, McAdams and McDuffie are doing their bit to maintain the morale of the campus lovelies. Nary a week end goes by, but what some damsel is favored by these Don Juans.

Jim "Gig that man" Gill has not yet partaken of Canyon beauty. The tough flight commander shudders at the thought of dating a girl. A fine catch for some ambitious young lady, he is.

"The Two Musket-ears and a Nose"—Ralph Crockett, Vern Graff and Jack Garrard. The latter was paid $10,000 by Boris Karloff to stay out of Hollywood.

All right Ed Karl, for one dollar I'll mention your name in this column.

MELODIC DESCRIPTIONS

That old Black Magic—Allan Nelson.

Lazy Bones—Bert Koons.

I'm Just Wild About Hairy—Joe Mont.

Everything Happens to Me—Manuel Dichner.

Johnny Zero (especially in math)—John Garrard.

Tea for Two—Ed Johnson (he's both of them.

I'm just a Vagabond Lover—Glen McAdams.

Can't Get Out of This Mood—Jim McIntosh.

Let's Get Lost (when they need a detail)—Vern Graff.

I'm Getting Tired So I Can Sleep—Jerrald Evoritt.

Nobody Loves Me—Ralph Crockett (can I help it 'cause I'm mean)?

Ah, that wonderful furlough.

Wing Tips From Flight 6

Rolling off the runway this week comes news back from Santa Ana. It seems that a few of the boys have run into a little rough weather but we feel sure they'll come through with flying colors. Still at the same time, all of the students here have renewed their efforts to make sure they'll make a three point landing once they reach the land of sunshine and grapefruit.

About the happiest guy in flight 6 this week was A. E. Richmond. No wonder either, his Peg was up to see him. Don't tie those matrimonial knots yet, Rich.

Hot on his trail with a lot of courting is that hustling Aggie, Bill Ozier. How he does it, no one seems to know.

Dick White seems to be on the loose too, since the restriction of talking to girls has been revoked.

Seen at the dance over at Cousins Hall were Jim Wilson, Keith Tormey, Jim Toone, Bob Schaller, and Wayne Wilson. Oh say, Wayne, they tell me you let Herr Mueller get away with your gal—Helen Palmer—of all people—Mueller.

Seen slumming around in Amarillo at the Herring were Ben Hopson, Bob Kurtz Bill Kurkamp, Lloyd Kurkowski, Allan Middleton, Lester Kearney, and yours truly. It seems the boys were a trifle short of women, but the champagne flowed and a good time was had by all.

Also seen in the Herring Coffee Shop were Bill Meyers and Margaret Stites along with Melvin Layne and his wife.

The Nobel Prize of the week goes to "It don't take long to find out who your buddies are" Ed Schindler. Yes sir, Ed, we're for you 100%! Honorable mention goes to George Wilson, William Spencer, and Ike Silvermann for volunteering for special detail on Sunday morning. That's what I call real soldiers.

John Thorpe wants to know why Bernie Taylor and Horace Thornton are such big buddies. Isn't that just like a nosey roommate?

Thanks to Homer Wells for his matrimonial advice to a certain somebody. They tell me he really knows what he's talking about. Lookout Mr. Anthony!

Also the staff appreciates the help given by Miss Bobbye LaFon and Miss Louise Giles for their diligent typing.

And last but not least goes thanks to the students of flight 6 for helping make this a better column.

Keep the gossip flying.

Flight Eight

Inspired by the smallness of its column last week, Flight Eight got busy this week and refrained once more from handing in any news, all except for John A. Pasco. After being horribly beaten over the head with the hard end of a G. I. mop until he could stand it no longer, Pasco finally wrote out a few quips for the flight representative. Here they are:

John A. Pasco is not losing any weight, as anyone behind him can plainly see.

Thad Paruznski says he is going to play hard to get from now on. Is he kidding?

Willous Whitaker and George Ryan are extra happy now, since their wives have come to stay in Canyon for a while, but are they moaning over that three-mile cross country run.

Wistful Wishings: That A. L. Watson would quit saying that "Flight Eight has no men absent, sir." . . . That Aubrey Middleton would quit blowing the whistle earlier than he should. . . . That Eugene Werner would learn to walk.

What happens when two girls get together? Ask "Hamdsome" Bill White.

Congratulations to Madison Rowan on his marriage last Saturday night.

Cotton Robertson finally got caught up with and was gigged. Whatta you know?

Thomas J. McHugh must have a girl friend in the hospital. First he cuts his finger and goes on sick call. Then he beats himself on the head with a bed, and goes again. What next, Mac? Isn't one girl in the cafeteria enough? She gives you double rations of ice cream, don't forget.

Chick Miller wasted no time in getting started after orders came out that talking to girls was permissible. In fact, that very morning Chick was even seen sitting in a car with a certain charming girl.

The married men of the flight really fell for Captain Corbyn, after he granted them special privileges to see their wives. Now the single men are only hoping that he won't forget them.

Stalling Around

Flight Five—Grand Landfried

The fact that it takes the fair sex to bring out the best that is in a man has been proved beyond a shadow of a doubt by the actions of Daddy Hopson and Uncles Kearny, Cadenhead and Schliska after getting a ride to Amarillo with a lady and her beautiful blonde blue-eyed daughter. Of course the boys were striving to make a good impression on the daughter but Hobson's father-like approach won him a volley of smiles and a period of handholding. Uncles Kearny and Cadenhead ran a close second, rating a few loving phrases as follows, I quote:

"Blug aflux gebalk goo fiskle" unquote, both answered with a finger and lip movement emitting something like this, I quote:

"Blerder Blerder Blert" unquote.

Uncle Schliska could do nothing but blush and grin, bashful, you know.

Hopson again came thru with a series of funny faces which brought him a vigorous giggle making him undisputed holder of the title "Da Da" Hopson.

I highly recommend these high type clean cut boys for the care of your children, Fathers of the detachment. Just phone Da Da Hopson in care of the dining room at Stafford hall and he and his associates will be glad to oblige.

One of the boys who has been flying here told me of a peculiar experience he had had while flying over the track meet at Buffalo Stadium Saturday before last. His story proceeds as follows:

I was flying low over the stadium when a mother bird and her baby flew past and I couldn't help but here their conversation. Here it is just as I heard it:

Baby Bird: "Mama, what's going on down there?"

Mama Bird: "Why Baby, that is a race between a group one man and a group two man."

Baby Bird: "Who is going to win the race, Mama?"

Mama Bird: "It looks like the group one man is going to win, baby,"

Baby Bird: "Oh Gee, and I put all I had on the group two man."

If you don't believe that this is authentic, ask Pfc. Straugunschlaufer who is now in Iran.

Bravery Award of the week goes to Ray Lacey for bravery while off duty. At last, after his months of training, Lacy was able to put what he had learned to the test. In the dead of night, Lacy and eight of his roommates cornered an enormous one and a half inch mouse and the strong arm of our hero put a crushing blow directly to the head of the mirauder. Lacy emerged from the fray unscratched but fell exhausted to the floor as his associates carried the limp body of his adversary from the scene.

It is rumored that Lacy will be made a student Sergeant and his eight roommates will be made student Corporals as a reward for their gallantry.

Aside from the frequent Civil War reprecussions all is well at Stafford Hall—comfortable living quarters for 40 men, so says the annual.

range a conference schedule that will receive individual instruction in some phase of their work." The student is urged to take advantage of this excellent opportunity, as the instructors desire to spend more time with the men. All of the appointments will be made during study periods and free periods.

Dr. Meyer also said that in the future all of the study periods will be under the supervision of instructors who will be capable of assisting the students in Mathematics, English, Geography, Physics, and History as far as it is possible. Under this supervised study there will not be any waste of time on the part of the student. It has been observed that many students spend much of their study periods gazing out of the windows or just occupying a chair.

In regard to examinations, Dr. Meyer remarked that the system now used will continue. The fundamental purpose of these tests are to maintain interest in the respective courses.

In conclusion, Dr. Meyer pointed out that the only detrimental remark that he had to make was the apparent disrespect that some students showed toward their instructors by occasional sleeping in class. To remedy this situation, he suggested that the student should take more interest in the course; interest is all that it takes to stay awake, regardless of climatic conditions.

Prisoner of Japs to Speak Here Sunday

Miss Blanche Groves, native of Texas, prisoner of the Japanese for months after the attack on Pearl Harbor, missionary of Southern Baptists to China for many years, is to speak at the First Baptist Church of Canyon, Sunday at 8:15 p. m., according to an announcement by the pastor, Dr. Roy L. Johnson.

Miss Groves has only this June 13 date here and many Canyon people will be glad to hear her message about her imprisonment in her own house, her work in occupied China for several years before the Japanese attacked the United States, her fifteen Japanese guards who were assigned to keep her from from what they thought was spy work. Miss Groves knows the Chinese whom she loves from many years of association with them, and she knows the Japanese from first-hand experience both before and after the outbreak of the war with the United States. All who are interested in the orient, the war, and Christian missions will be profited to hear her.
